Energy City Qatar

Public Realm

The concept of Doha's 'Energy City' development is to be the region's first full service business hub and office district for leading local and international companies. A key element for this substantial and liveable new development is a holistic public realm and landscape which will provide a usable green infrastructure for the city. CBA has been commissioned to develop concepts and detailed designs for the landscape of all public spaces, boulevards, parks and streets. Design Codes for private plots reflecting the overall landscape and public realm principles for the city will guide development on all private land.
